STEVEN MURRAY

Steven Murray has more than 25 years' experience in the field of education working as a project manager, researcher, author, teacher trainer and teacher. My love for education stems from the fact that I have seen time and time again how effective teachers can really open up a whole new world of possibilities for their students... In the 21st century more than ever before, I believe it is important for training and teaching activities to be interactive, authentic and motivating. I also believe that it's important for trainers and teachers to enhance their students' abilities to think critically and deeply as well as to learn how to solve problems for themselves. The information is out there... There are numerous policies, approaches, strategies and perspectives that successful policy makers, trainers and teachers have applied that have made a really positive difference for their students.
